Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 1, 2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 8, 9 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 97/37697 to Rau et al.

Rau discloses a device comprising a micro axial pump fastened to a catheter (13) and having a tubular pump portion (14) comprising a pump ring (15) and a tubular cannula (25) with a distal axial inlet and a proximal radial outlet (16); and a dilating device (20a) surrounding the pump portion.

Regarding the limitation “wherein said dilating device is configured for breaking up a stenosis of a cardiac valve upon deployment while positioned within said cardiac valve”, Rau discloses a balloon as a dilating device. There appears to be no structural difference between applicant's claimed device and Rau's disclosed device. The device of Rau is capable of opening up a stenosed valve.

Art Unit: 3731

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 10, 11, 12 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 97/37697 to Rau et al. in view of U.S. Patent No. 4,808,165 to Carr.

Rau discloses the claimed invention except for the particular pressure to which the balloon may be inflated. Carr teaches that a balloon may be inflated to at least 1.0 bar in order to be able to inflate within a stenosed valve. These high pressures are necessary to open the stenosed valve (Column 1 lines 34-40). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the device of Rau with the high inflation pressure of Carr in order to allow the device of Rau to dilate a stenosed valve.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 8, 9 and 19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
